— ASH BARON COHEN FILMS —

Name: Ash Baron Cohen

Synopsis: Ash Baron Cohen (cousin of Sasha) has written and directed movies to critical and commercial success Stateside. After watching Ash's first independent feature 'Bang', legendary director Oliver Stone wrote a letter to US immigration on Ash's behalf hailing him as "a young British filmmaker who has undoubtedly flourished to become one of the most gifted of his generation."

A commitment to making films with a social conscience and an ability to secure high profile talent are values reflected throughout Ash's work, from his second feature 'Pups' starring Burt Reynolds providing a 'Bonnie and Clyde' for the MTV generation to his documentary about kids living with Aids hosted by James Woods. With the producers of Oscar-winning 'Crash', Ash is currently casting his new $15M action movie 'Radio-Active' set in the gangster world of contemporary LA. He's recently been responsible for turning Mischa Barton into a dominatrix for fashion label Bebe's latest raunchy advertising campaign.

Pups

Genre: Comedy / Drama
Duration: 99 minutes
Cast: Burt Reynolds, Mischa Barton

Synopsis: Ash Baron Cohen's second film 'Pups' provides a tragic-comic and honest look at the relationships between kids and guns with a Bonnie and Clyde for the MTV generation. Initially released theatrically to strong reviews, 'Pups' premiered forty eight hours before the Columbine High School Massacre and its distribution pulled thereafter with studios citing potential public backlash. 'Pups' is was re-released in the US this September on HBO

"Ash returns with another strong, edgy film led by Burt Reynolds" - LA Times

"Van Hoy leads with a startling film debut that matches Pups' sense of impulse, rage and humanism. A perceptive powder-keg." - Variety

This Girl's Life

Genre: Comedy Drama
Duration: 104 minutes
Cast: Juliette Marquis, James Woods

Synopsis: Offering a unique perspective on the life of an international porn celebrity and the relationship with her Parkinson's-riddled father (James Woods), 'This Girl's Life' includes a stunning debut performance by Juliette Marquis who exudes as much intelligence as sex appeal. The film played to over 20 million viewers on Showtime's TV network in the US after its successful theatrical and DVD release.

"So many moments of truth.. a movie of historic value because it is the first performance of an actress who is going to be a big star" - Roger Ebert

Zebra Crossings

WINNER OF THE BIFA RAINDANCE AND EUROPEAN INDEPENDENT FILM OF 2009
AWARDS

Director: Sam Holland · Duration: 93 minutes

“From the moment I was born I cried for a month...”

Eighteen years on, and Justin is no nearer the truth. And in a world that increasingly doesn't care, maybe just simply relying on friendship is not enough? Especially with friends like Billy, Sean and Tommy.

Set amongst the backdrop of the towering, concrete-clad estates of south London 'Zebra Crossings' blends a diverse mixture of characters that all share one thing in common: The incredible loneliness of living alongside 7 million other people. Blending the surreal, and very real, we take an intense journey in search of friendship, belief and religion.

With a lacklustre father and estranged mother, Justin's only source of perennial control comes from an unlikely source, his bed-ridden sister Suzanne. But Justin needs is a real mentor, a father figure, someone who can provide guidance before it's all too late. In steps Marcus, unlike anyone Justin has ever known before, calm, soft, assured... but does he want something from Justin?

Meanwhile, Tommy's abandonment issues haunt him once again, and his class-A drug addiction has sent him into full destruction mode. Also, the pressure from a rival gang has reached exploding point - as there is certainly no space for two crews in this neighbourhood. Justin must find the answer to it all, and quick.

Anathema

Director: Agim Sopi · Duration: 108 minutes

Kosovar journalist Ema Berisha, working with two American journalists, Laura and David Schwartz, report from war torn Kosova. When the war reaches the highest point, the American journalists are ordered to flee. They unsuccessfully try to persuade Emma to get out of Kosova, to leave with them. Emma is determined to stay. Upon returning to Prishtina, Emma finds the Serbian forces are ousting the population to refugee camps. Partly to punish her for her work as a journalist, the soldiers rape Emma. She becomes pregnant and gives birth to a baby girl, which she names Ana. When the war is over, there is nobody to help Emma. From a very loved person during the war, she becomes an unloved person, abandoned and forgotten by everyone. All relatives look upon Ana as a misbegotten child and they try to persuade Emma to abandoned her. A year later, the American journalist David, returns to Kosova and they fight together to get back the anathema daughter of Emma's.

Fragments of Daniela

Director: Sasha Knezev · Duration: 80 minutes

An Eastern-European sex-trafficking ring run by the Russian mob is exposed by a New York reporter while on assignment in Los Angeles covering an international sporting event. A love story with infuriating passion, "Fragments of Daniela" exposes the underbelly of a world most are not aware exists. More importantly, it indicates how this network stretches its tentacles across the globe.

Farkas (Wolf)

Director: Tamas Toth · Duration: 70 minutes

Nikolai Sergeievich is a Siberian man who has seen better days His present profession is problem-solving. Due to his wide experiences and peculiar, hidden abilities, he can solve any kind of problems. Supposedly he can speak the language of the animals.

The life of a small Siberian village, totally depends on the reindeer breeding. New times and changes also made the wolves behave cruelly.

They decimate the reindeer herd by sucking out their blood, not by killing and eating them. They just leave the bodies there. The sheperds ask Nikolai Sergeievich (who is generally believed to be the offspring of shamans) to help them.

Boat People

Director: Rob Curry · Duration: 88 minutes

The Boat People is a psychological thriller. Jared is taken to the coast by his new girlfriend, Alice. They stay in the seaside cottage she's owed all her life with her sister, Cleo. As soon as he gets there, Jared begins to have haunting dreams of a distant exotic land. The dreams excite Alice.

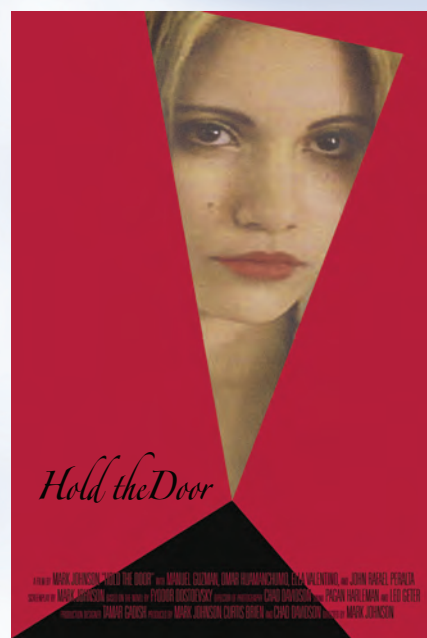

Even more weird is that when Cleo unexpectedly turns up, she somehow seems to know what happens in the dreams without him telling her. Gradually Jared realises that the sisters are using his dreams to uncover a long-buried secret from their childhood, when they lived in Vietnam and their parents were brutally murdered.

But who was the murderer? And why does Jared begin to feel that his life is now threatened? As the landscape and the house reveal their secrets, Jared becomes more and more drawn into the twisted world of The Boat People. First they take over his dreams, then they take over his mind.

Hold the Door

Director: Mark E. Johnson · Duration: 80 minutes

Eugene, a dreamy and naive teenager, becomes friends with Hector, an impulsive and brutal young man. The mutual fascination of this unlikely pair brings them together in the heart of New York. Eugene soon meets Monica, Hector's girlfriend, who prefers Eugene's sensitive nature, and the two begin to see each other on the sly. Paranoia ensues as the fanciful Eugene comes to fear that Hector is haunting him. Hold the Door, Mark Johnson's first feature film, was inspired by Dostoyevsky's The Idiot.

FEATURE / MINI FEATURE

Poptart

Director: Tracy Brown · Duration: 24:43 minutes

A zealous documentarian takes advantage of a young man's pent-up desire to avenge his mother's death by coercing him into action and promising, "the world will see this". The film uses a varied screen format to weave back and forth between the participant's view of action and the distorted view through the edited documentary. Poptart makes bold statements, not only about the hypocrisy of media but also how stereotypical hip hop behavior may be the only shield available to protect a young man's fragile vulnerability.

La Gardeuse D'Oies a la Fontaine

Director: Patrick Bittar · Duration: 29:30 minutes

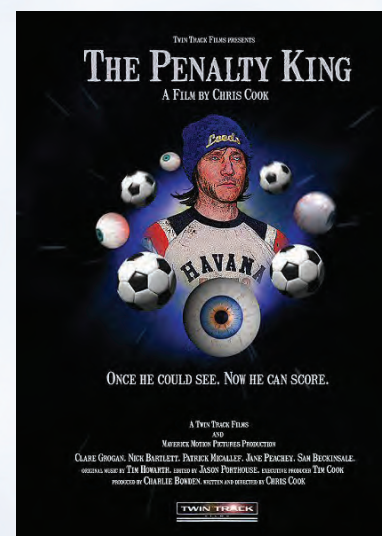

In a forest, a young wanderer meets a witch and accepts to help her carry a huge bundle of grass to her shack. This is the beginning of an initiatory journey, through which he will uncover the mystery that veils the beauty of a young goose keeper...

Penalty King

Director: Chris Cook · Duration: 90 minutes

The Penalty King is a highly-enjoyable off the wall sports comedy starring Nick Bartlett (Scorsese's GANGS OF NEW YORK) and Clare Grogan (GREGORY'S GIRL – winner of the BAFTA FILM AWARD)

Blind Lee Vaughan yearns to play the 'beautiful game' once more but it seems he's stuck forever in his dead-end job working for a dominating boss (played by the still gorgeous CLARE GROGAN). Then along comes an American maverik and tricks a local pub football team into letting blind Lee sign up for them. The result is a funny, daft, tough and soulful comedy THE PENALTY KING.

Nazareno

Director: Varo Venturi · Duration: 89 minutes

Nazareno, who works as a nurse at a geriatric hospital by day, and as a debt-collector by night, lives in a state of profound religious crisis, based on the karma of his name, and a childhood marked by a violent father and strict Catholic upbringing.

Candy Darling

Director: Silvia DeFrance · Duration: 26:30 minutes

In a small isolated matriarch community situated in the desert reigns Mother, a manic and frustrated hag. To keep her power over Candy Darling and Daddy Cane, she deliberately creates a psychological inferno. This ultimately drives all protagonists to utter madness and complete decay becomes inevitable.

SILENT RADIO

Director: Alan Arrivé · Duration: 30 minutes

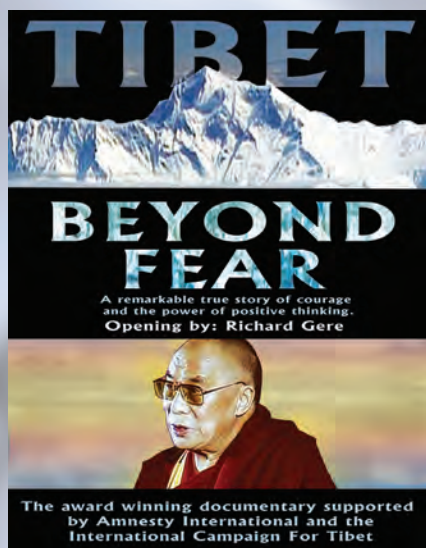

A curious drifter in an all-night cafe coaxes the story out of a cowboy, word by word, until neither can escape the truth of what's happened. An award-winning film from Alan Arrivé.

A Wyoming cowboy and his wife put up a friend from New York who wants to write about the area -- but no one realizes how extreme the real story will become when she tries to take a character based on reality back with her across the eastern border. A curious drifter in an all-night café coaxes the story out of the cowboy, word by word, until neither can escape the truth of what's happened. 'There was this line she was gonna let me cross,' says the cowboy in this mystery of American East and West. 'She had somethin' that was mine and she was takin' it away. It was like stealin'.

Hollywood's Heart

Director: Andreas Wigand · Duration: 12 minutes

When the young screenwriter George Wells begins to unravel the truth about his friends, he finds himself a pawn in a murderous industry that wants to consume his dreams. Will George conquer his dreams or die trying?

Pirouette

Director: Andrew Shemin · Duration: 7 minutes

A girl alone in a Paris apartment. A bottle of pills. A last meal. She prepares to die. She changes clothes. She applies makeup. She chooses a position. Her heart stops and she forces herself to get up and write down one more thing.

There begins a suspenseful race between life and death. Without so much as a word of dialogue, Pirouette explores one answer to Albert Camus' philosophical question, "Why do we not kill ourselves?"

D.C Dingle

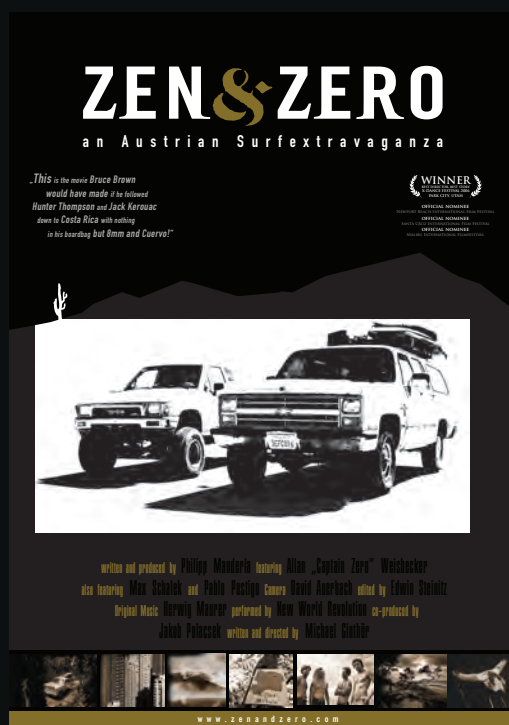

Director: Rob Humphrey · Duration: 12 minutes

When D.C. Dingle meets his new neighbor Wally an instant bond forms between these two God-fearing, flag-obsessed patriots. Together they patrol the neighborhood for terrorists and other deviants who threaten their America. Damn the Constitution, full speed ahead!

ZEN & ZERO

an Austrian Surfextravaganza

Cast: Allan C. Weisbecker, Pablo Postigo, Max Schalek, Edwin Steinitz, Michael Ginthor, Jakob Polacsek, Philipp Manderla, David Auerbach.

Cofinanced by the ORF (Austrian Broadcasting Network).

This Hunter Thompson-esque voyage from LA to Costa Rica explores the dream of the classic surf trip, executed by generations of surfers since the '60s. When five landlocked Austrians get on that very road, tracing the footsteps of Allan Weisbecker's Captain Zero, their surf-pilgrimage turns into a metaphysical investigation of the myth of the surfer-dude, part comedy, part philosophical diversion.

Why are landlocked Austrians shooting a film on Surfing? That sounds like Jamaicans doing a film on Skiing...

A small group of Austrian independent filmmakers have joined forces to come up with a film about surfing, a car deal and their road trip all the way down to Costa Rica. 7.000 miles lie between Los Angeles and Costa Rica, a classic surf trip and a classic scenario for a road trip of its own kind.

If that does not surprise you, this will: the same group of Austrian filmmakers completed their movie two years after their return from Central America and moved on to take home awards for „Best Story“ and „Best Director“ and were further nominated for „Best Movie“ and“ Best Original Score“ at the X-Dance Film Festival in Park City, Utah, held at the same time as the famous Sundance Film Festival. Zen & Zero's world premiere at the academy awards of action sport and its success at this renowned festival is futher proof that there can be more to a good surfing movie than just compelling images. This film tells a story, a true story.

Zen and Zero subsequently was invited to other festivals such as the Newport Beach Film

A number of screenings are currently taking place in the US, Central and Eastern Europe, Japan and South Africa . The makers of Zen & Zero came to celebrate their biggest success so far when they were awarded with „Best Movie“ by a renowned Jury at the International Surf Film Festival in St Jean de Luz, France.

So they say :

"Have a bunch of Austrians just created the best soul surf doc of 2006?"

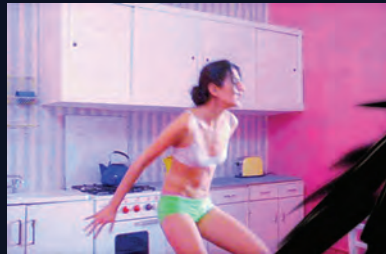

"This is the movie Bruce Brown would have made if he followed Hunter Thompson and Jack Kerouac down to Costa Rica with nothing in his boardbag but Super 8 film and Cuervo!"

„A deft and hilarious odyssey through the backcountry of surfing's soul“

DOCUMENTARIES

The Beirut Apt

Genre: Documentary

Duration: 50 minutes

Synopsis: A political time-bomb about to explode and CIA Agents. The small spaces of an apartment contain issues of international scale in this intimate documentary. Lebanese law criminalises LGBT people, making them vulnerable to blackmail and attack – sometimes from state police – and preventing the report of hate crime. With safety and concern an apartment was hired where interviewees could speak freely. What emerges is a snapshot of queer life in urban Lebanon, described by Arab people from a variety of faiths and cultural backgrounds. From growing up in a war zone to the rise of Hezbollah and the shock of renewed conflict with Israel, issues of identity, safety and freedom combine with issues of sexuality and gender. Despite differing backgrounds and opinions these eloquent men and women share the struggle to live authentically in a culture that denies their existence.

Orgasmic Birth

The Best-Kept Secret

A documentary that examines the intimate nature of birth and the powerful role it plays in women's lives when they are permitted to experience it fully

www.orgasmicbirth.com

Synopsis...

Powerful, passionate and thought provoking, with commentary by a dozen preeminent health professionals and 11 women and their partners who share their birthing journey, Orgasmic Birth dismantles untruths about labor and birth that women have been told for generations. The women in the film are transfigured and transformed by the power of their own bodies.

Pioneering first-time filmmaker Debra Pascali-Bonaro brings to the screen the ultimate challenge to our cultural myths by inviting viewers to see first hand the glorious emotional, spiritual, and physical heights attainable through the miracle of birth. Her documentary reveals that birth is something a woman can enjoy, rather than endure. Pascali-Bonaro challenges common preconceptions while inviting viewers to witness the safest, easiest, most pleasurable way to give birth. Orgasmic Birth intersperses expert commentary with stunning moments of women in the ecstatic release of childbirth.

In contrast, we see women in bed, strapped to fetal monitors and surrounded by strangers. Orgasmic Birth presents the theory that birth today is too often mechanized, hospitalized, technologized and removed from women's control. As best-selling author and OB/GYN Christiane Northrup warns, we have been brainwashed to view birth not as a natural process but as "an emergency waiting to happen." She further explains, "If your providers knew that it was their job to create a safe container for you to experience everything that was possible and they encouraged you to do this, you would relax, your body would open, it would be totally different."

The laboring women of Orgasmic Birth courageously allow their births to be filmed to show others what is possible. In the hospital, birth center, and home, they share personal moments of birth.

Tamra says her friends think she's "brave" for choosing a home birth. But she believes the reverse: that it's women who give birth in hospitals who are brave, since many face up to a 50% chance of being rushed into a cesarean section—with all the attendant risks of major abdominal surgery.

Deirdre and Murph tell their physician that they want to avoid a cesarean section at all costs. They trust him to decide what will be needed during labor. But when her labor pain escalates, Deirdre requests and receives an injection of epidural anesthesia. This numbs her pelvic floor so that she can no longer control the muscles that push the baby out. A cesarean may be necessary, after all.

First-time mom Helen was sexually abused as a child and raped as a teenager. Fearing flashbacks during delivery, she tells us, she decided to have her baby in a safe environment. She carefully chose every person who would be present, knowing they would understand her fears, care for her, respect her, and support her at a challenging time.

Amber relaxes fully in a hot tub, allowing her baby's birth to culminate in a rolling orgasm. She allows us to witness an everyday miracle.

Pediatrician Lawrence Rosen states that the way women are cared for as their babies enter the world can profoundly affect their own and their infants' health and well-being. Both mother and baby are producing peak levels of hormones at the moment of birth. Sarah Buckley, MD, explains that many of the interventions that are commonly used in maternity care today reduce the release of these hormones in the laboring woman's body, making her birth less ecstatic, less pleasurable, and less safe for herself and her baby.

The women in Orgasmic Birth experience labor undisturbed, free to move their bodies to the internal rhythm of labor with their partners at their side. They laugh, kiss, and moan through their contractions, providing a rare look at an approach to childbirth that is not only more pleasant, but safer and healthier for both mother and child than the medicalized experience that has become the norm in the United States.

Orgasmic Birth brings the ultimate challenge to our cultural myths by inviting viewers to see the emotional, spiritual, and physical heights attainable through birth. By witnessing the intimate experiences of 11 women, birth is revealed as an integral part of women's sexuality and a neglected human right. Director Debra Pascali-Bonaro shares what she calls "the best-kept secret" as we witness women in the ecstatic release of childbirth.

The evocative score for the 85-minute film was created by John McDowell, composer of the score for the Oscar-winning documentary Born Into Brothels, with additional composition by Sabina Sciubba of the group Brazilian Girls. Orgasmic Birth is subtitled in French, Spanish, German, Portuguese, Czech, Polish, and Greek with other language translations in progress. To date, Orgasmic Birth has been featured on ABC-TV's "20/20" and Great Britain's GMTV "Breakfast Show." The San Francisco Examiner, Guardian Newspaper, UK Times, Irish Independent, Denmark's Morgenavisen Jyllands-Posten, Toronto Star, and Brazil's Superinteressante are among the global publications that have reported on the film in recent months; a feature for the Washington Post is in the works. Those who have never seen the film offer strong responses as to the possibility of pleasure and empowerment during birth, fostering on-going discussions and publicity worldwide. Orgasmic Birth is featured on blogs around the world including the prominent Huffington Post, Foxnews.com, and the New York Times where the film was the topic of Lisa Belkin's Motherlode blog for two consecutive days.

The film has attained tremendous media coverage and has had an international impact on the festival circuit to date, screening at the prestigious European Independent Film Festival in France; Rio de Janeiro International Film Festival; The Baltimore Women's Film Festival; Usti Film Festival (Czech Republic); and the Festival Caminhos (Portugal). Orgasmic Birth was awarded the Audience Choice Award at the 2008 MotherBaby International Film Festival in Bermuda and has been screened in over 27 countries on six continents.

"Watch this film and get in on the world's best-kept secret; labor and birth can be pleasurable – even ecstatic. Better yet, pleasurable birth enhances the health of both mother and baby and creates a positive foundation for a lifetime."

DEMOCRACY IN FLAMES

See Pakistan as you have never seen it before

"The buzz words for Pakistan are democracy, nuclear capability, fundamentalism, extremism, terrorism, and sometimes cricket"

Democracy In Flames is a journey into the heart of Pakistan's latest attempt at the democratic process, and provides a timeless historical snapshot at a turning point in world history. The film follows a fiery young 'old school' socialist PhD student from London, to his hometown of Lahore. Possessed with the grievances of a generation, Taimur Rehman is a modern day Che Guevara in one of the most volatile places in the world.

This observational documentary, filmed by director Taimur Khan, is a unique window into the murky world of Pakistani politics at a grass-roots level. Pakistan has never been seen like this before. In the course of filming there is an unexpected twist in the narrative. Taimur Rehman turns a famous political poem into a song which is a huge hit on YouTube. He is suddenly transformed into a 'protest' pop star playing to tens of thousands of fans. They are the hidden constituency in Pakistan that don't fall into the clichaic 'religious' and pseudo 'democratic' models that usually pervade analysis in the media. Maybe in the future there will be more buzz words for Pakistan - poetry, films, music, and justice. The disturbing alternative will be 'Talibanistan'.

This film takes us into new territory, revealing the true dynamics and structure of a society desperately trying to re-invent itself in a region of utter turmoil. The nature of that re-invention will affect us all and this makes Democracy in Flames essential and compelling viewing for an international audience.

Dr Rolf's Seven Seas

Genre: Documentary/Travel/Cooking series

Duration: 12x26' Season One

Season Two currently in production

Versions: German and English

Every so often, an extraordinary person comes along, follows his dreams, and makes us all jealous as we toil away in our offices. Dr Rolf Versen is that guy!

A hugely entertaining character, Dr Rolf gave up a successful dental practice in order to fulfil his dream of sailing the 7 seas, creating a cooking/travel/lifestyle television series in the process.

From the Bay of Biscay, through to the Mediterranean, along the coast of Africa and across to the Caribbean, Dr Rolf punctuates each stage of his journey by exploring local delicacies, interviewing local chefs and restaurateurs, and getting involved with local events; the Monaco Boat Show and Les Voiles de St Tropez to name but two.

Part history, part culture, part sailing and with lots of great food, join Dr Rolf as he pulls into another port, exploring the local culinary and cultural landscape!

SWAN LAKE ON ICE
PHANTOM OF THE OPERA ON ICE

The world-famous Imperial Ice Stars, who have won international critical acclaim and five-star reviews with their previous tours of The Sleeping Beauty on Ice and Swan Lake on Ice, are set to thrill Australian audiences once more with their brand new production, Cinderella on Ice, commencing a tour of Melbourne, Adelaide, Sydney, Canberra, Brisbane and Perth from 5 August.

More than two million people across five continents have been swept to their feet by The Imperial Ice Stars' adrenaline-infused performances. The Imperial Ice Stars have performed at many of the world's most prestigious venues, from Sadler's Wells in London's West End to the Esplanade Theatre in Singapore, and from Montreal's Place des Arts to Moscow's Red Square.

The Treasure Houses of England are nine of the most magnificent palaces, houses and castles in England today. Each has its own unique charm and all combine together to give a fascinating insight into life in England over the centuries.

One of the most compelling features of the Treasure Houses of England is that they all offer the visitor a living history. Most are still homes to the great families who have owned them for generations. Others keep their heritage alive by recreating scenes and events that have dominated and shaped England from the 9th century to the present day.

Between them they house some of the most important art collections in the world with famous works from artists such as Van Dyck and Gainsborough. Each House is an architectural masterpiece surrounded by beautiful parklands and gardens. Visit each of the Treasure Houses of England to fully appreciate their own individualities.

The Imperial Ice Stars Treasure House Tour of Sleeping Beauty on Ice will be playing at the following Treasure Houses: Chatsworth, Castle, Howard, Burghley, Blenheim, and Beaulieu

58 Golf courses in 14 countries

If you have a Golf show and are looking for new footage to broadcast we have the answer. We offer individual films of over 58 Golf courses around the world. In addition to the individual films, there are also 5 different "Dream&Relax" compilations that show all the Golf courses with lounge music as background. Each of those cuttable compilations last for about 4 hours.

Time for golf

With "Vanden Berge - time for golf" aired on March, 17 2006 the first golf-teaching magazine on German television. Since its debut this show airs bi-monthly on Premiere World and Golf Digital TV. The innovative format of Teaching Pro-Joerg Vanden Berge, who with his philosophy, "strength, technique and mental strength" brings new insights into the fascinating world of golf.

The series is aimed at golf enthusiasts, beginners and amateurs, who want to learn the game in a structured manner or target specific weaknesses. With 3D animations those technical aspects are visualized and explained and supplemented with slow motion studies. In addition, the magazine provides information on the topics of equipment, tools and health and nutrition.

The sporting theme of "time for golf" is complemented by regular reports from international golfing destinations, such as Newfoundland, Egypt and Tenerife. Also welcome Jörg Vanden Berge and host Jörg Wontorra guests from the fields of golf sports and television, such as Ottmar Hitzfeld, Mike Krueger, Jan Josef Liefers, and more recently legend goalkeeper Oliver Kahn.

The Club house

The Show is filled with laugh-out loud interviews, including celebrities telling their stories, on location segments, new golf products, trend setting technology and the latest fashion... James Brown is a charismatic feature Reporter for ABC4 News. Craig Heesch is a Master Certified Golf Professional working with Pro Golfers on the PGA, Senior and LPGA Tours. Those two complement each other very well. James' interviews are irreverent and fun, while Craig provides insights, tips and technique for both players and wanna-be players.

In The Clubhouse, just like those at any golf course, players gather to eat, drink, have a great time and swap stories.

Festivals Inside & Out

Genre: Music/Factual. 6x26' Series

A DIFFERENT SLANT ON MUSIC FESTIVALS. A colourful journey through diverse UK and European music festivals, showcasing bizarre events, comic characters and their passions. With killer live performances!

Our energetic and musically savvy presenter heads round the UK and across the continent in a red Routemaster bus with unplugged performances onboard. We travel to isolated rural locations, mountain tops, city centre park-scapes, an Aegean seashore paradise and other exciting and mystical places. This is not just about music, crowds and hedonism. We expose the intense passions and energy which go into a festival, warts and all. What it takes to create a home-grown boutique festival work while competing against the likes of Glastonbury and Reading for the muso's ticket purchase!

Through incredibly varied coverage in the UK and abroad, these journeys have hilarious spectacles, great and often very intimate live performances from big acts, striking locations and cutting-edge visuals.

On duck herding and the like

Rather than simply presenting a festival showcase, we get right under the skin of the events. The presenter gets involved with larger than life characters and performers in a fast-paced, multi-directional spin of story-telling. From a blissed-out seashore paradise to duck herding and hallucinatory desert landscapes, people follow some of their wildest impulses, or just get on the vibe.

Many of the events are award winning and well known – some are barely discovered. Established and exclusive access gives the presenter a platform for comedy while examining the festival ethos, construction and sound.

Meet acts close-up with multi-camera coverage of fantastic performances. Dive headfirst into comic skits and capers. We go in-depth, following different personalities and artists. Relaxed, genuinely beautiful settings frame the colour, variety and buzz. Directly involving the spirit and feel of each festival, live music and attractions, we show why these events are so diverse, fun and compelling. Each half hour episode will focus on the one the following boutique festivals:

1. The Calling – Andy and Ben produce wildly varied events – the small but heavy-hitting Kendal Calling a quirky music festival with big headliners – this year British Sea Power, Glasvegas, Dizzee Rascal and Super Furry Animals. Others cover thousands of students, husky racing and duck herding in an event at the highest pub in England described as ‘the best weekend of my life’
2. Snowbombing / On The Piste. Taking music and snow shenanigans to new heights in the Alps.
3. Garden / Electric Elephant – Mediterranean paradise. The Garden Festival and Electric Elephant in Croatia sit amidst a beautiful seaside village, with a sea organ and numerous odd village characters. The organisers previously ran an enduring club night in Manchester basements some described as ‘the best club in the world’. Some difference. Boat parties, expansive folk music by the sea, hidden island trips, surreal antics and a search for al fresco bliss.
4. Cornbury – ‘A dynamic summer festival disguised as a Country Fayre’. As well as big music headliners and fine catering, Cornbury includes a farmer’s market with a dance-floor and a homemade cakes and tea tent. Besides Wychwood Forest – a festival site for centuries – and set around a 17th Century stately home, The event itself was recently attended by royalty. ‘Possibly the only festival in the world where you can dry your hands with a hand drier and worship with the jolly local female vicar’.
5. Angel - Escape Into the Park / Global Gathering. Angel are probably the world’s biggest festival brand. Global Gathering and Escape Into the Park are giant events for tens of thousands of ravers. They have taken their spirit, artists and set-up across the world – the US, Poland and Malaysia to name a few. How on earth have they carried it so far?
6. Nowhere – Europe’s Burning Man. Culminating the series in Northern Spain, where people travel thousands of miles to follow some of their wildest impulses in the desert, creating, expressing, playing music. Then burning, leaving no trace.

GRAND MASTER SKEN'S CLASH OF THE TITANS

Thai boxing's living legend prepares for battle in the UK.

For one night only legendary Muay Thai boxing expert and premier trainer of champions, Grand Master Sken is showcasing the art of Muay Thai for a mainstream audience in the UK.

With 40 years of Muay Thai combat, coaching and promoting experience under his belt, Grand Master Sken is bringing Thailand's national sport to the UK in an event that features world champions from around the globe.

Topping the bill of ten bouts in total will be Three world champion title fights pitting the best of British against the best of Thai:

- Thailand's Rungravee Sasiprapa, 45 wins from 65 fights - awarded "the most exciting fight of the year 2007" by TV7 and is ranked no 4 in the world by the World Muay Thai Professional Federation (WPMF) - will be taking on the unstoppable Brit Andy Howson (SIMTA British Champion, WAKO pro Commonwealth Champion and WPKL Intercontinental Champion) who has an impressive 45 wins under his belt
- Thailand's favourite Bovy Sor Udomsorn who has 145 wins will be taking on England's Michael Dicks who has 55 wins in his cabinet
- Thailand's 'Superstar' Sanchai Sor Kingstar - Lumpinee champion, Thailand's Sports Personality of the Year 2009 and voted Best Boxer of the year by 3 journalistic associations in Thailand - comes in with an impressive 80 wins

Not only will this exciting event showcase the art of Muay Thai at its finest, but it will also include 3 exclusive world class demonstrations:

- Guinness World Record Holder for Fastest Kicks - 192 in 1 minute - Chloe Bruce will be showing off her skills
- Paul Karpowicz and the Master Sken Academy Demonstration Team
- The Lumpinee Muay Boran Demonstration Team will give a display of "Ancient Battlefield Boxing" which is done with the fists bound.

Grand Master Sken is a leading light in the world of Muay Thai with over 40 years of experience under his belt and a trainer of world champions in several disciplines. He is also well known for his fight choreography and also appearing in Hollywood films with Jack Nicholson in Batman

Muay Thai is a unique sport that encompasses culture, history, beauty and rituals along with no-holds barred moves. However, surprisingly, it promotes pacifism and is based on mastering the mind to master the body. As such it has amassed many celebrity fans, including Andy Murray, Steven Gerrard and Wayne Rooney.

In addition to up close and personal coverage of this spectacular one-off event, the show will also include VT packages featuring profiles of the fighters and their all-important preparation for the big night. As well as fighting and training tips from Grand Master Sken himself.

In a contest that makes the highest mental and physical demands, only the toughest fighters will triumph.

It's going to be the fight night of a lifetime. So, battle to get your ticket.

The Concept

The greatest football players share with us their memory of one of the most beautiful goals they have scored for their national team during an official competition. Each episode will illustrate a goal of the national team at one of its campaigns carried out at the time of the great competitions (final phases). Thanks to Keep The Goal, we'll revive the most beautiful hours of the greatest football competitions.

Progress

The episode opens on an animation including:

- Posters of the official competitions, which reveal
- A meter with the dates
- A meter with the places (cities and stages)
- A meter with the hours

The episode continues with archive images of the goal with original comments.

Following the original comments, we'll hear the voice of the striker whom we'll see alternately with a slow motion repeat broadcast of the goal.

The striker answers to some questions as for example:

- 1) Of who or what did you thought just after scoring?
- 2) Why did you made this precise gesture after scoring?
- 3) What signifies this goal in your international career?
- 4) Did (do) you have special habits before a match? (Recurring gesture, lucky-charm objects etc.)
- 5) Did you kept the shirt of this match; to who did you gave it; do you have an anecdote on this match?

The next sequence is an identification sheet of the striker concerned by the episode.

Voice-over: The player reads his identification sheet. Planned as an identity card, the sheet includes:

- A based period photograph of the player
- His name and first name
- His number and position in national team
- His national team selection records (goals, appearances etc.)

In case of need :

- His nickname

The program ends on a presentation of the next episode.

ROCK N'ROLL...OF CORSE !

When you believed it was forever

London 1976: The punk movement came to life at a time when social protest was at its height, a time when the rebellious youth sought a different future than the prevailing sterile artistic and cultural context would have dictated.

It was against this social backdrop that the young Corsican Henry Padovani first arrived in England for a 2 week vacation. 7 years later Padovani's journey was a unique one.

The original guitar player in The Police, this documentary takes advantage Padovani's access to the superstars of the time, Sting and The Police, Mick Jones and The Clash, Kim Wilde, Jeff Beck and The Stranglers, all of whom became close personal friends. Yet Padovani distanced himself from the spotlight...

Rock N Roll Of Corse paints an intimate portrait of one of the most interesting social revolutions of our time combined with the people that made it happen.
